New Fall Holiday Titles from Kar-Ben!

Hillel Builds a House

Shoshana Lepon
Illustrated by Ángeles Ruiz

All year, Hillel builds treehouses and forts. His structures—in the backyard, under the stairs and even in the living room—can get in the way when the family is busy with holiday preparations. As the Jewish holidays come and go throughout the year, Hillel can’t seem to find the right one for his building projects. That is, until fall comes, and with it the holiday of Sukkot, the Jewish harvest holiday, which is all about building a temporary structure, called a sukkah. Hillel puts all his practice building to work as he helps his father use boards, branches and decorations to create the family sukkah.

Shoshana Lepon has published numerous books for adults and children, including No Greater Treasure, Noah and the Rainbow and The Ten Plagues of Egypt.

Ángeles Ruiz was born in Barcelona, where she lives with her husband, also an illustrator, and her daughter. She has a Fine Arts and Interior Design degree from Escola de la Llotja Art School in Barcelona. When not illustrating, she loves to explore nature, go to the library, and spend time with her family.

Sammy Spider’s First Book of Prayers

Sylvia A. Rouss
Illustrated by Katherine Janus Kahn

A first Jewish prayer book introduces children to daily and Shabbat prayers, plus special prayers. Sammy Spider watches Josh Shapiro and his family as they recite standard prayers for a variety of occasions. Engaging, rhyming text explains when and why Josh prays. This giftable book includes the prayers: Modeh Ani, Hamotzi, Birkat Hamazon, Sh’ma, Hashkiveinu, Shabbat Blessings, Ye’vare’checha, Havadalah, Shehechiyanu, Mi Sheberach, Tefilat Haderech, A Prayer for our Country, A Prayer for Jerusalem, Mourner’s Kaddish, and Oseh Shalom.

Sylvia A. Rouss is an award-winning author and early childhood educator, and the creator of the popular Sammy Spider series, celebrating its 25th anniversary with over half a million Sammy Spider books sold. She lives in California.

Katherine Janus Kahn studied Fine Arts at the Bezalel School in Jerusalem and at the University of Iowa. She has illustrated many children’s books including Kar-Ben’s popular Sammy Spider series. She lives in Wheaton, Maryland.
NEW FALL 2020

There was a Young Rabbi

A Hanukkah Tale

Suzanne Wolfe

Illustrated by Jeffrey Ebbeler

Hanukkah is a very busy time! Join the young rabbi as she makes festive preparations—spinning the dreidel, cooking a tasty meal, lighting the menorah, and more—in this cumulative, rhyming story reminding readers of the Hanukkah miracle of long ago! Learn about Hanukkah’s festivities and rituals, and about the Jewish holiday itself.

Suzanne Wolfe is a retired teacher living in Jenks, Oklahoma, a suburb of Tulsa. A graduate of The University of Central Arkansas in Conway, Arkansas, she taught for over 34 years in public schools in Oklahoma and Texas.

Jeffrey Ebbeler loves the creative potential of storybook art. He gives lectures and demonstrations in schools, colleges, and museums about the process of bringing words to life through pictures. He lives in Cincinnati with his wife and twin daughters. His books include Lights Out Shabbat, Cutting in Line Isn’t Fair and others.

Nicanor’s Gate

Eric A. Kimmel

Illustrated by Alida Massari

Set in biblical times, the story of Nicanor’s Gate—one of the entrances to the Temple in Jerusalem—shows how a man’s faith is important to living a happy, fulfilled life. Nicanor, a wealthy merchant from Alexandria, is thrilled when King Herod calls on him to assist in rebuilding the ruined Temple in Jerusalem. Nicanor orders massive, beautifully intricate doors to be built, especially for the Eastern Gate of the Temple, but disaster strikes while the gates are being shipped from Alexandria to Jerusalem. To escape sinking, the ship must reduce its load, and one of the doors is pushed into the sea. But a miracle happens: the heavy door surfaces, is recovered from the sea, and installed as an entrance to the Temple area.

Eric A. Kimmel has been writing for children for more than 40 years. His more than 100 titles include such classics as Anansi and the Moss-Covered Rock and The Chanukkah Guest. He lives in Portland, Oregon.

Alida Massari is an Italian artist who lives in Rome and specializes in illustration for children. She finds inspiration for her work in folk traditions and ancient art.

Happy Birthday, Trees!
Karen Rostoker-Gruber
Illustrated by Holly Sterling

It’s Tu B’Shevat—Jewish Arbor Day—and a diverse group of children work together to plant a tree. After digging a hole, placing the tree, filling the hole with dirt, patting the ground, and spraying the garden hose, the children celebrate by wishing the tree a happy birthday, and then look forward to when it blossoms on Tu B’Shevat the following year.

Karen Rostoker-Gruber has written several picture books, including Farmer Kobi’s Hanukkah Match, a National Jewish Book Award Finalist. Karen lives in Branchburg, New Jersey.

Holly Sterling is a freelance children’s author and illustrator. She loves to work by hand using a variety of different media including watercolor, pencil and different printing processes. She lives in England.

The Abba Tree
Devora Busheri
Illustrated by Gal Shkedi

A father and daughter spend time together outdoors on Tu B’Shevat, the Jewish festival that celebrates trees. Young Hannah declares that the carob tree her father is napping under is no good for climbing because its trunk is too skinny. She tries to climb a eucalyptus tree, a pine tree, and an olive tree, but to no avail. When each poses a challenge—too scratchy, not having enough footholds—Hannah’s Abba (Hebrew for “Dad”) offers new inspiration for climbing, challenging Hannah to climb an Abba tree. Hannah comes to understand that trees are part of a generational cycle, and that she and the carob share something important in common.

Devora Busheri is a children’s book writer, editor, and translator. She has authored six books and edited many others for various publication houses in Israel. Devora lives in Jerusalem with her family.

Gal Shkedi is an animation director, illustrator and character designer based in Tel Aviv, Israel.
Behind the Bookcase
Miep Gies, Anne Frank, and the Hiding Place

Barbara Lowell
Illustrated by Valentina Toro

Anne Frank’s diary is a gift to the world because of Miep Gies. One of the protectors of the Frank family, Miep recovered the diary after the family was discovered by Nazis, and then returned it to Otto Frank after World War II. Displaced from her own home as a child during World War I, Miep had great empathy for Anne, and she found ways—like talking about Hollywood gossip and fashion trends—to engage her. The story of their relationship—and the impending danger to the family in hiding—unfolds in this unique perspective of Anne Frank’s widely known story.

Barbara Lowell is the author of several books for children, including Sparky & Spike: Charles Schulz and the Wildest, Smartest Dog Ever. Barbara lives in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Valentina Toro is a graphic designer and children’s book illustrator, with an MA in Creative Writing. Valentina has written several children’s books in Colombia and has worked with authors from all over the world. She lives in Colombia.

The Book of Secrets

Mat Tonti

Bubbe frantically appears to Rose and Ben in a cloud of flour to warn them that she and Grandpa are in danger, and asks them to find a special book full of secrets. The siblings are followed on their quest by a creepy sorceress as they work their way through the book and try to figure out what all this strangeness means. Armed with the book’s stories—of King Solomon’s daughter and the Ziz, the giant Og, a treasure hunter who lives in a mushroom hut, and the mystic power of Ba’al Shem Tov and Dov Ber—the siblings outwit fate to heed the Lamplighter’s advice, slip into the maze, reunite with their grandparents, and protect the Jewish people.

Mat Tonti is a teacher and an artist who strives to make art that is inspirational and educational, including comics, illustrations, and Ketubot. When not teaching, or making art, he can be found playing in the woods.
Does Your Dog Speak Hebrew?
A Book of Animal Sounds
Ellen Bari
Illustrated by Holly Clifton-Brown

A dog says “bow, wow” in English and “hav, hav” in Hebrew. Whimsical animals in American and Israeli settings compare their varied noises and sounds. Readers can explore which sounds are the same and which are different in droll depictions of animals in Israel and the United States.

Basic Hebrew vocabulary, including animal names and sounds, are introduced. Iconic locations like Capitol Hill and Central Park in the United States, and the Dome of the Rock and the Sea of Galilee in Israel are featured in illustrations.

Ellen Bari has created award-winning museum exhibits and programs for clients including The Children's Museum of Manhattan, Sesame Workshop, PBS, Nickelodeon and the US Holocaust Memorial Museum. Ellen, a fluent Hebrew speaker, lived in Israel and enjoys writing about a variety of Jewish topics. She lives in New York.

Holly Clifton-Brown lives in London. She is the author and illustrator of Annie Hoot and the Knitting Extravaganza and has illustrated other picture books including Big Bouffant and Big Birthday.

It's Challah Time
20th Anniversary Edition
Latifa Berry Kropf
Photographed by Moshe Shai

A diverse preschool class works together to make challah for Shabbat in this photo-driven book. They combine yeast, water, flour and salt into dough that is braided into perfect challah loaves. The children enjoy tasting their creation, and learn that making challah is a special ritual of Shabbat, the Jewish Sabbath.

Latifa Berry Kropf teaches preschool, remedial reading, and Israeli dancing. She is the author of It's Challah Time!, It's Sukkah Time!, It's Seder Time!, and It's Hanukkah Time! She lives in Charlottesville, Virginia.

Moshe Shai has been a professional photographer for over 30 years, with rich experience in press, geographical and documentary photography. His work has appeared in a variety of international magazines, as well as Israeli newspapers Yedioth Aharonot, Ma'ariv and Ha'aretz, and photo agencies including Getty, Sigma and Corbis. He lives in Israel.
Noah Green Saves the World
Laura Toffler-Corrie
Illustrated by Macky Pamintuan

Noah hoped to go to film camp this summer, but instead he’s being sent to Camp Challah, where his parents hope he’ll make some real friends. Noah’s grandfather has other plans for him. Pops, who claims he used to be a secret agent, says he needs Noah’s help on a mission to save the world. As Noah and his bunkmates uncover mysterious goings-on at Camp Challah, Noah starts to suspect that they’re connected to Pops’s mission. But what are the chances that Noah can finish filming his magnum opus, earn the friendship of his new “mates,” and save the whole world in just a few weeks?

Laura Toffler-Corrie is an award-winning author of young adult and middle grade novels. She teaches creative writing and literature at Pace University and is working on her Doctorate in English Education at Columbia University. Laura lives in Westchester with her husband, two daughters and a variety of large and small animals.

Macky Pamintuan was born and raised in Davao, a city in the southern Philippines. As a young child, drawing was his favorite pastime and an activity that brought him delight and satisfaction. He received his Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from the Academy of Art College in San Francisco. When not illustrating, Macky enjoys playing basketball, his other true passion.

Beni’s War
Tammar Stein

Beni’s family moves from bustling Jerusalem to a remote moshav, a collective farm, where Beni feels hopelessly out of place. Beni’s older brother Motti, a soldier in the Israeli army, is away from home, adding to Beni’s loneliness.

Then, on the holy day of Yom Kippur, the quiet is shattered by artillery shells falling on the moshav. Egypt and Syria have attacked, and war has come to Israel once again. Motti must return to his unit, and in the chaos one of Beni’s school bullies must stay with Beni’s family. As worries mount about Motti’s fate, Beni realizes his family’s survival may hinge on Beni’s own particular brand of courage.

Tammar Stein is the author of novels for teens and children. Her books include Light Years, an American Library Association Best Book of the Year and a Virginia Reader’s Choice, and The Six-Day Hero, a Sydney Taylor Honor book, a Junior Library Guild Selection, and a prequel to Beni’s War. Tammar lives near Washington, D.C. with her family and rambunctious hound dog.

—Lisa Silverman, Library Director, Burton Sperber Jewish Community Library, Los Angeles, CA

I Love Matzah

Freidele Galya Soban Biniashvili

Illustrated by Angelika Scudamore

How many times a day and in how many ways can one eat matzah, the quintessential Passover cracker? For a kid, it’s all day and in many ways. From matzah with eggs at breakfast, to matzah with yogurt for a snack, as a side dish with dinner, and as a bedtime snack with cheese, matzah is a fun food enjoyed by little ones.

Freidele Galya Soban Biniashvili has been writing stories and poems since she was young and is the author of several children's books. She lives in Toronto, Canada with her family.

Angelika Scudamore is based in South London. She loves the hustle and bustle of the city and stopping off at small coffee shops, where she gathers inspiration from the people and atmosphere.

“Matzah lovers rejoice—this one’s for you!”

—Kirkus Reviews

“Very useful in sharing the simple treats of Passover with kids who are just learning to like matzah and enjoying different flavors of holiday foods.”

—Lisa Silverman, Library Director, Burton Sperber Jewish Community Library, Los Angeles, CA
Clarence’s Topsy-Turvy Shabbat
Jennifer Tzivia MacLeod
Illustrated by Jennie Poh

Clarence’s special Shabbat challah recipe calls for flour, oil, honey, yeast and water, and his neighbors eagerly await their fresh loaves. But instead, Clarence gathers a silly assortment of items that can’t be used for challah-baking including a flower, soil, and a beast. The ladybug narrator of the story, in the role of a puzzled adult, wants to know what Clarence is planning to do. The answer: he’s using these items to set the perfect Shabbat table. As for the challah, he ends up borrowing the ingredients from his friends!

Jennifer Tzivia MacLeod lives in northern Israel with her family. Her previous book, Yossi and the Monkeys, has become a Shavuot favorite.

Jennie Poh was born in England and grew up in Malaysia. She studied Fine Art at The Surrey Institute of Art & Design as well as Fashion Illustration at Central St. Martins. She lives in England.

Havdalah Is Coming!
Tracy Newman
Illustrated by Viviana Garofoli

This is the ninth in the popular Jewish holiday board books series by Tracy Newman and Viviana Garofoli. A family and their puppy celebrate Havdalah, the weekly ritual celebrating the end of Shabbat and welcoming the new week. The family watches the first three stars appear in the sky, blesses the special braided Havdalah candle, sips the ritual wine, and passes around the spice box so all can smell the sweetness of the week to come.

Tracy Newman’s writing inspiration comes from her adventures raising her children. She lives in Connecticut.

Viviana Garofoli was born in Buenos Aires, Argentina, where she lives with her husband and two daughters. She has illustrated more than 70 children’s books.

“This simple, family-centered account of weekly observance should be welcome in many Jewish homes.” — Kirkus Reviews
Buen Shabat, Shabbat Shalom

Sarah Aroeste
Illustrated by Ayesha L. Rubio

It’s Friday night. Bueno, great!
Let’s get ready to celebrate!

With a Ladino word introduced on each page, this multicultural board book features a Sephardic Jewish family preparing to celebrate Shabbat. They light candles, bless the wine and challah, eat their Shabbat meal and sing Shabbat songs, all in the setting of a Sephardic home.

Determined to help bring Ladino (Judeo-Spanish) culture to a new generation, Sarah Aroeste, a Ladino singer, author, and cultural activist, draws upon her Sephardic family roots to present original Ladino songs and prose. She lives in Massachusetts.

Ayesha L. Rubio was born in Madrid, Spain. She studied fine arts in college and specialized in illustration at Serra i Abella’s art school. Her latest journey led her to London, where she is exploring animation.

You’re the Cheese in My Blintz

Leslie Kimmelman
Illustrated by Ramona Kaulitzki

In my blintz, you’re the cheese.
You’re the sun in my sky,
To my heart, you’re the key.
You’re the twinkle in my eye.

A rhyming board book celebrating the centrality of a young child in a family, featuring ethnically and otherwise diverse families.

Leslie Kimmelman is an award-winning author of dozens of books for children, both fiction and nonfiction. She lives in Ardsley, New York.

Ramona Kaulitzki’s biggest passion has always been drawing and storytelling. She loves creating little characters and breathing life into them. She lives in Germany.

“This is a celebration of the love and joy that a baby brings to the world, just right for enjoying during a snuggle on a lap. Like a blintz, irresistible.”

— Kirkus Reviews
Miriam at the River

Jane Yolen
Illustrated by Khoa Le

Giving her baby brother a kiss, brave little Miriam places his basket into the river. With a quick push, she sends the basket into the water, hoping her brother will be rescued. Pharaoh’s daughter arrives in time to save him, setting the stage for the boy who will become a Prince of Egypt. Revisit the biblical story of Moses as told by his big sister.

Jane Yolen lives in Massachusetts and has written more than 300 books across all genres and age ranges. She has been called the Hans Christian Andersen of America and the Aesop of the twentieth century.

Khoa Le is an illustrator, graphic designer and author based in Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam.

"Yolen puts readers inside Miriam’s mind as the girl carries out her mission and realizes she is part of a bigger destiny.”

—Publishers Weekly

Judah Touro Didn’t Want to be Famous

Audrey Ades
Illustrated by Vivien Mildenberger

Jewish philanthropist Judah Touro sets out from Boston to New Orleans in 1801, dreaming of becoming a successful shopkeeper. With his skill in business, he earns a great fortune. But after he is injured on the battlefield in the War of 1812, Judah begins to see the world through new eyes. He recognizes that his true calling may be to help others. Grateful and humble, Judah begins to perform philanthropic deeds, large and small—all in secret.

Audrey Ades grew up in New England and holds degrees in Theater and Psychology. Judah Touro Didn’t Want to Be Famous is her first picture book. She lives in South Florida with her family.

After graduating from Art Center College of Design, Vivien Mildenberger packed up her pencils and moved to a lovely farm just outside of Nashville, Tennessee.

"A candid introduction to a little-known figure in Jewish American history.” —Kirkus Reviews
Hard Hat Cat!

Jamie Kiffel-Alcheh
Illustrated by Maxine Lee

A stray kitten sits high in a tree above a construction site in Tel Aviv, watching the workers with their girders, beams, cement mixers and cranes. Avi wants to adopt the cat from the many strays that roam the streets of the city, but his mom—and the family dog—don’t like the idea. Every day the cat comes back, finally becoming a family’s “forever cat.”

Jamie Kiffel-Alcheh regularly writes for National Geographic KIDS. She is also a lyricist for pop songs, advertisements, and motion pictures. She lives in Burbank, California.

Maxine Lee has illustrated projects from jigsaw puzzles to picture dictionaries. Her inspiration comes from many people, places and things but has deep roots in children’s books and pop culture. Maxine lives in Liverpool, England.

Shalom Bayit
A Peaceful Home

Linda Elovitz Marshall
Illustrated by Ag Jatkowska

Whether nesting in trees or burrowing under the ground, different kinds of animals are shown dwelling peacefully in their various kinds of homes. At the end, a human family in their home completes the peaceful picture.

Linda Elovitz Marshall has, in addition to writing and farming, taught early childhood and parenting education, and owned a bookstore. She lives in New York.

Ag Jatkowska was born in Gdansk, Poland. She graduated from the Academy of Fine Arts in Gdansk with an MA in Graphic Design and Illustration. She lives in Bath, England.

“A welcome book for any nature-loving toddler.” — Kirkus Reviews

“A lovely book with a message of the peace of nature around us includes the Jewish concept of shalom bayit in a successful way.”

—Lisa Silverman, Library Director, Burton Sperber Jewish Community Library, Los Angeles, CA
My Sister is Sleeping
Devora Busheri
Illustrated by Michel Kichka

A proud big sister in an Israeli family draws pictures as she eagerly anticipates her baby sister waking from her nap. She lovingly describes the baby, imagining all the things she will do when the baby wakes up: holding the baby in her lap, feeding her oatmeal, and taking her for a walk in the stroller. The book includes Hebrew words in the descriptions of the joys of having a new baby in the family.

Devora Busheri is a children’s book writer, editor, and translator. She has authored six books and edited many others for various publication houses in Israel. Devora lives in Jerusalem with her family.

Michel Kichka is an Israeli caricaturist and illustrator.

“A lovely, sweet treat for big siblings everywhere.” — Kirkus Reviews

Too Far From Home
Naomi Shmuel
Illustrated by Avi Katz

Meskerem was born in a small town in the Golan Heights of Israel, to an Ethiopian mother and an American father. Soon after Operation Solomon, when several thousand Ethiopian immigrants were brought to Israel, Meskerem's parents decided to move to the center of the country, to the town of Herzelia. Meskerem comes face-to-face with the ignorance and prejudices of her new classmates, many of whom are meeting someone dark-skinned for the first time. With the help of her Ethiopian grandmother, who remained in Kazerin, Meskerem comes to terms with who she is and finds strength in belonging to three different cultures.

Naomi Shmuel is an author of more than 15 books, as well as an illustrator and anthropologist. She authored the first children's books in Hebrew to feature characters of color. She lives in Israel.

Avi Katz, best known as the illustrator of Jerusalem Report magazine, has illustrated over 100 books. He lives in Israel.
